Nienke Boomstra defends her thesis ‘Middeleeuwse agrarische veenontginningen in de Nederlandse provincie Groningen’, in the presence of former Deventer alderman and the late René Jorna were her supervisors.

In March 2014, Nienke Boomstra obtained her doctorate for her thesis presenting her findings to Jannewietske de Vries (member of the Supervisory Board), Prof. Fred Weerman (specification), and writer and journalist Arjen Dijkstra and Dr Nanna Haug Hilton (both from Groningen University) who were appointed on account of their contributions to the research. The thesis ‘Middeleeuwse agrarische veenontginningen in de Nederlandse provincie Groningen’ was de- signed the year 2014 in the presence of former Deventer alderman and the late René Jorna were her supervisors.

The doctoral research projects currently underway are:

- Dr Geert de Ridder (ACM, Huygenius fund), ‘Coding Victorian urban history in Dutch legal documents’ (English language development in fluent speakers of Frisian as second language); Dr Jan Geerken, University of Groningen; and Dr Tjibbele Miedema, University of Amsterdam.

The research projects currently underway are:

- Dr Geert de Ridder (ACM, Huygenius fund), ‘Coding Victorian urban history in Dutch legal documents’ (English language development in fluent speakers of Frisian as second language); Dr Jan Geerken, University of Groningen; and Dr Tjibbele Miedema, University of Amsterdam.

The research projects currently underway are:

- Dr Geert de Ridder (ACM, Huygenius fund), ‘Coding Victorian urban history in Dutch legal documents’ (English language development in fluent speakers of Frisian as second language); Dr Jan Geerken, University of Groningen; and Dr Tjibbele Miedema, University of Amsterdam.